“Obtaining this label is a great accolade for the energy and conviction that our staff show in integrating students into the daily activities of Axereal Group and its various subsidiaries. Young people have an essential role to play in the agricultural and food transitions our Group is working to bring about. The student assignments that we propose annually are both substantial and important for our business. The accent on the collective interest and the genuine focus on environmental issues that characterise our cooperative are reflected in the results of this survey, and that brings us a great deal of satisfaction,” said Sophie Tuja, Human Resources and Communications Director for Axereal Group.

Today, more than ever, it is essential that the lived experiences of our young people are aligned with the engagements of our cooperative. The results of this survey, in terms of the CSR policy, the sense of utility and the pride in working for Axereal, for example, are perfectly consistent with the deep-rooted meaning that drives agriculture and food businesses and the role played by our sector in the transitions underway and yet to come.

Discover launches its second cohort of students!

On 6 October, the 2023-2024 intake of apprentices, interns and VIEs gathered at Château de la Ferté-Saint-Aubin (Loiret department) to learn more about the Group. They were joined by Jean-Luc Gitton, Administrator, and Paul-Yves L’Anthoën, CEO.

Throughout the year, the 130 students will benefit from a dedicated training and follow-up programme and exclusive presentations on personal development and sector knowledge topics. They will have opportunities to meet up at unique events, as the previous year's alumni did at the Axereal Hackathon organised for them in June 2023.
